Compared to last week, steers and heifers unevenly steady with the unweaned calves bringing discounts again this week. Temperature swings have started up, making buyers more conscious of programs and body condition. Wheat is coming up and the warm days with rain made it shoot up last week. Cattle going on the wheat and rye has been sought after and bringing a premium, if they were the right kind. October's cattle on feed report was released on Friday, showing bullish data. On feed was at 98.6 percent of last year's inventory at 11,550,000 head. The average industry guess was at 99.3 percent.
